

I am currently finishing my degree at Instituto Superior Técnico. It was through participating in an Introduction to Telecommunications internship in this institution that led me to enter the world of technology and graduate in this area. Along with my studies, I like to deepen them and learn other subjects, because I want to solve problems in the world with technological resources. I am Vice President of NEECIST, which has made me more resilient and open to new challenges. I aim to complete my studies in a real engineering project at CERN institution, for which I have always had admiration.
